YOU ARE AT THE AMC!

The Allied Media Conference cultivates media strategies for a more just and creative world. Held every June in Detroit, MI, it is the primary point of intersection in the U.S. for alternative media makers and committed social justice activists from around the country.

We come together to share tools and tactics for transforming our communities through media-based organizing. The panel discussions and workshops of the AMC are hands-on and practical, intergenerational while youth-centered. They showcase the solutions emerging from places where creativity is a matter of survival. Out of the AMC, we evolve new skills and strategies to bring back to our local contexts. We deepen our relationships and expand our networks in ways that support ongoing collaboration throughout the year.

Allied Media Projects (AMP) presents the 10th Allied Media Conference, June 20-22 2008, in Detroit, Michigan.

OUR EVOLUTION BEYOND SURVIVAL: MEDIA STRATEGIES FOR THE NEXT TEN YEARS

The 10th annual Allied Media Conference is a milestone for the media movement. Over the last ten years, we've broken silence and built movements. We've become the media and created our own communications tools. Now we want to use this gathering to project ourselves another ten years into the future.

Amidst the threats we face as individuals and organizations, our survival is cause for celebration. The AMC provides the opportunity for us to celebrate and strategize as a community around common problems: how can we sustain ourselves and our organizations financially without getting caught up in commercialism or the nonprofit industry? How will we ensure there are people to do this work well into the future?

Powerful corporations and unaccountable politicians are advancing their vision of the future. What kind of future are we working towards and what role will our media play in shaping it?

Now rooted in Detroit, we continue to look to sustainability strategies growing from within the current disaster caused by militarism, systematic oppression, failing schools, and the growing planetary emergency. That is where we find people, out of necessity, using media as part of solutions to the problems many more of us will soon face. The AMC is a laboratory and a showcase for these innovations.

We come together to share tactics for living in the world that is and for shaping the world that we want.

ALLIED MEDIA PROJECTS FOR THOSE WHO SPEAK & LISTEN

Allied Media Projects is the host of the Allied Media Conference. The goal of Allied Media Projects is to democratize the tools of media creation and distribution and to support others who are doing the same. AMP networks participatory media organizations to provide a clear point of entry to the vast and varied world of grassroots culture. AMP also initiates projects to remove the obstacles that we in the participatory media community all face individually, but that we can only remove collectively.

WORKSHOP TRACKS

THE CONFERENCE THIS YEAR FEATURES SEVERAL TRACKS — THINK LESS “RAILROAD TRACKS” THAT WOULD ROUTE YOUR INTEREST IN A PARTICULAR DIRECTION AND MORE “ANIMAL TRACKS” THAT CRISS-CROSS EACH OTHER REPEATEDLY AS THEY TRAVEL IN UNEXPECTED PATTERNS.

HOW-TO TRACK

THE HOW-TO TRACK IS THE HEART OF THE AMC. ROOTED IN A DIY ETHIC, WE’VE BEEN COMING TOGETHER TO SHARE WHAT WE’VE GOT FOR THE PAST 10 YEARS. THERE ARE ALSO A LOT OF HANDS-ON ACTIVITIES GOING ON THROUGHOUT THE CONFERENCE IN THE YOUTH MEDIA LAB.

INCITE! WOMEN OF COLOR / TRANS PEOPLE OF COLOR TRACK

PRESENTED BY INCITE! WOMEN OF COLOR AGAINST VIOLENCE. THE COMMUNITY OF SUPPORT WE CREATE THROUGH THE INCITE! TRACK AT THE AMC IS VITAL TO OUR SURVIVAL AS WOMEN AND TRANS PEOPLE OF COLOR MAKING MEDIA AND ORGANIZING TO END VIOLENCE WITHIN OUR COMMUNITIES. EQUALLY VITAL, IS THE EXCHANGE OF BRILLIANT IDEAS, WHICH TAKES PLACE WHEN WE COME TOGETHER.

YOUTH MEDIA TRACK

IF YOU LOOK AT ALL THE WORKSHOPS AT THE AMC, YOU’LL NOTICE THAT SOME OF THE MOST CUTTING-EDGE STRATEGY IS COMING FROM YOUTH MEDIA ORGANIZATIONS. THIS IS EXCITING, CONSIDERING THAT THE FUTURE OF ALL OUR MOVEMENTS LIES IN THEIR HANDS. THE YOUTH MEDIA TRACK, SPONSORED BY DETROIT SUMMER, SHOWCASES AND CULTIVATES THE LEADERSHIP OF YOUTH THROUGH HANDS-ON WORKSHOPS AND CRITICAL DIALOGUE.

YOUTH MEDIA LAB

THE YOUTH MEDIA LAB IS A HOTBED OF HANDS-ON SKILL-SHARING FROM BEAT-MAKING TO TRANSMITTER-BUILDING. IT STAYS OPEN ALL WEEKEND-LONG IN THE BASEMENT OF THE CONFERENCE CENTER. IN THE YML, YOU’LL FIND VIDEO AND AUDIO EDITING STATIONS, A MAKESHIFT RECORDING STUDIO, AN EXPERIMENTAL PHOTO/VIDEO BOOTH WHERE PEOPLE CAN DO EXPERIMENTS WITH LIGHT AND LEARN ABOUT THE ELECTROMAGNETIC SPECTRUM... AND MUCH, MUCH MORE! THE YML IS YOUTH-CENTERED BUT OPEN TO ALL.

MEDIA POLICY TRACK

SPONSORED BY PEOPLE’S PRODUCTION HOUSE, THE GOAL OF THE POLICY TRACK IS TO UPSET THE USUAL DYNAMIC WHEN IT COMES TO MEDIA POLICY WHERE YOU HAVE A VAST ARMY OF PEOPLE WHO ARE WILLING TO SEND EMAILS IN SUPPORT OF CERTAIN REGULATORY MEASURES, AND A SELECT GROUPING OF “EXPERTS” WHO FRAME THE ISSUES FOR LEGISLATORS AND LOBBY THEM TO DO THE RIGHT THING. THERE IS ALMOST ALWAYS A CLASS, RACE, AND GENDER DIVISION BETWEEN THESE TWO CLASSES OF ADVOCATES, WITH THE “EXPERT” COMING FROM A MUCH MORE TECHNOLOGICALLY-PRIVILEGED BACKGROUND. THE THEME OF THIS YEAR’S POLICY TRACK IS THE FUTURE OF THE INTERNET.

MEDIA AND POPULAR EDUCATION TRACK

MANY OF THE SESSIONS AT THE AMC USE POPULAR EDUCATION TECHNIQUES, BUT THIS TRACK INCLUDES WORKSHOPS ESPECIALLY BY AND FOR EDUCATORS WHO ARE USING CREATIVE, MEDIA-BASED TEACHING METHODS FOR ADVANCING SOCIAL JUSTICE IN THE CLASSROOM AND BEYOND.

KIDS TRACK

KIDS ARE WELCOME AT THE AMC! WE BELIEVE IT IS IMPORTANT TO INTRODUCE MEDIA TECHNIQUES TO CHILDREN AND ENGAGE THEM AS MEDIA MAKERS WHO HAVE AN IMPORTANT VOICE AND POINT OF VIEW. THROUGHOUT THE WEEKEND THERE WILL BE A MINI KID’S TRACK OF SESSIONS HAPPENING IN THE CHILDCARE AREA, FOCUSED ON HOW CHILDREN CAN USE SEVERAL DIFFERENT FORMS OF CREATIVE MEDIA AS A FORM OF PROTEST, ACTION AND SELF-EXPRESSION. SESSIONS INCLUDE ‘LETTER WRITING AS ACTIVISM FOR KIDS AND YOUNG PEOPLE’ AND ‘KIDS MAKING ZINES.’

CONVERSATION BETWEEN INCITE! & SPEAK WOMEN OF COLOR MEDIA COLLECTIVE

FACILITATORS: ALISA BIERRIA, INCITE! AND BROWNFEIPOWER, SPEAK WOMEN OF COLOR MEDIA COLLECTIVE

INCITE! Women of Color Against Violence and Speak Women of Color Media Justice Collective will host a three hour strategy session aimed at strengthening connections between INCITE! and existing radical women of color independent media outlets and envisioning a shared approach to using media to end violence against women of color. This session is a continuation of preliminary conversations between members of INCITE! and Speak,. All women/trans people of color are welcome.

ROOM L

THIS IS WHY I'M HOT: YOUTH MEET-UP & KNOWLEDGE EXCHANGE

FACILITATORS: MARIANA CASTAÑEDA, DETROIT SUMMER AND NAVI SANDHU, RADIO ROOTZ

This year, for the first time, a youth advisory board has designed a day-long youth meet-up and knowledge exchange to kick-off the conference. All of the youth organizations in attendance should prepare a 10 minute mini-workshop that zeros in on one aspect of your work that you think is hot. We'll spend Friday morning sharing our workshops with each other in a swap-meet style exchange of expertise.

9:00AM - 10:30AM (90 min sessions)

ROOM J

GRAPHICS FOR THE COMMONS

PRESENTERS: THE BEEHIVE COLLECTIVE

The purpose of this workshop is to build connections between activists that use words, and those that speak in pictures, to help create more accessible, powerful campaigns for the important issues of our time. The Beehive Collective has been creating and distributing anti-copyright, educational artwork for the past 7 years about social and environmental issues from biotechnology to the FTAA. In this workshop, we will use 'mind-mapping' as a tool to collect, organize and share the ideas generated by the whole group.

ROOM H

BE THE WEB: USING WEB 2.0 INNOVATIONS TO ORGANIZE AND CONNECT

PRESENTER: GEOFF HING

What is Web 2.0 and what does it mean for social movements? This session will look at blogs, feeds, wikis, mashups, tags and a ton of other tools and services that are the building blocks of "Web 2.0". As we navigate around the buzzwords and acronyms together, we will look at Web 2.0 technologies with a critical eye and think about what they bring to or take from the communication of social movements. Bring a notebook computer and mobile phone if you want to try some of the technologies at the session, but this hardware is definitely not required!

9:00AM - 10:30AM (90 min sessions)

COMMUNITY ARTS AUDITORIUM

NEGROES WITH GUNS: ROB WILLIAMS AND BLACK POWER

FOLLOWED BY DISCUSSION WITH MABEL WILLIAMS

NEGROES WITH GUNS tells the dramatic story of the often-forgotten civil rights leader who urged African Americans to arm themselves against violent racists. For eight years, Williams and his family lived in exile, first in Cuba and then in China. In Havana, Williams began to broadcast a 50,000-watt radio program called "Radio Free Dixie." The radio show fused cutting-edge music with news of the black freedom movement and Williams' editorials, which, among other things, urged blacks not to fight in Vietnam. According to the filmmakers, NEGROES WITH GUNS helps to "restore Rob and Mabel Williams to their rightful place as important civil rights figures who defied the white power structure without the protection of large numbers or the attention of television cameras."

10:45AM - 12:15PM (90 min sessions)

ROOM J

FROM MASHUPS TO INTELLECTUAL RIGHTS: COPYRIGHT FROM AN ARTISTS PERSEPECTIVE

PRESENTERS: GARY WISE, NEW MEDIA ARTIST AND APPROPRIATION CONNAISSEUR; LESLIE RAYMOND, PROFESSOR OF NEW MEDIA PROGRAM, UTSA AND LIVE VJ/VIDEO ARTIST; STERLING TOLES, DETROIT AUDIO/VISUAL ARTIST

If artists have historically copied from other artists, why are contemporary artists criminalized for sampling sounds and images? The artists on this panel appropriate sounds, music, and moving and still images in their work. They will offer different perspectives on how artists can relate to copyright restrictions in the 21st Century, from navigating current copyright laws, to working with fair use and creative commons licenses, to saying f* intellectual property!

ROOM H

BUILDING SOLIDARITY, INCITING CHANGE: ACCESSIBLE MEDIA PRODUCTION THROUGH DIGITAL STORYTELLING

PRESENTERS: LAURA HADDEN, CENTER FOR DIGITAL STORYTELLING; TRACY GALLARDO, ADRIANNA GALLARDO, DENISE GUADIANA & NICOLE TYSVAER, REAL MEDIA

Digital storytelling provides a vital outlet for marginalized voices to build solidarity and incite change, regardless of the storyteller's technical background. The Center for Digital Storytelling will share powerful examples of this, as well as their workshop model itself, which allows participants to complete digital stories in three days. You will get to plant the seed for your own digital story and explore the importance of personal narrative first hand through two interactive writing exercises. The session will conclude with examples of digital storytelling projects from the Real Media Leadership Literacy Training project, an afterschool program based at a Western International High School in Southwest Detroit. The youth from Real Media will break down their process and share everything you need to know to get this kind of program started at your school, community center or wherever!

USING WHAT YOU GOT TO CREATE AND PROMOTE: GRASSROOTS VIDEO PRODUCTION

PRESENTERS: 2-CENT ENTERTAINMENT

This workshop uses the model of 2-Cent Entertainment, a grassroots video production project in New Orleans, Louisiana, to teach how to make and promote accessible and entertaining video with a political intent. 2-Cent produces a 28-minute regular television show that is broadcast on local New Orleans stations, in addition to online distribution. They have collaborated with the People's Hurricane Relief Fund, to produce music videos, a short PSA that cleverly targets "disaster tourists" exploiting our community, and much more. In this workshop we will share important lessons about creating and promoting high-quality, accessible work with little to no resources.

12:15PM - 2:00PM (LUNCH BREAK AND CAUCUSES)

SEE REGISTRATION TABLE FOR LOCATION

WOMEN OF COLOR WITH DISABILITIES ORGANIZING AND BUILDING COMMUNITY (CAUCUS)

Our bodies, our voices, our experiences are evidence of a life that dominant culture denies. The mostly white male leadership of the Disability Rights Movement marginalizes women of color, while disability is ignored or misunderstood in other social justice movements. We advocate for the integration of a radical disability politic in feminist of color agendas. What would our community look like if we had space to begin acting collectively? In this caucus, disabled women of color come together to envision a world where our individual and collective voices are heard, through blogs, zines, videos, art, poetry, and other creative venues. It's open to all disabled people and allies but centered on the experiences of disabled women of color. From here we will organize and collaborate on a project that explodes our experiences with the non-profit industrial complex, the colonization of our bodies, our histories, onto paper.

BLACK/ARAB SOLIDARITY CAUCUS

How can we use media to build coalitions among black and Arab communities? What could black/Arab solidarity mean? Organizers from Arab Resource and Organizing Center (AROC), Arab American Action Network, Palestine/Israel Education Project, Arab Women Active in Arts and Media (AWAAM), and Detroit's black/Arab solidarity group will come together in this caucus to share their work and collectively answer these questions. Everyone interested in black/Arab coalition building is welcome.

2:00PM - 5:15PM (3 hour 15 min sessions)

ROOM B

SPEAK: MEDIA SKILLS TRAINING FOR WOMEN AND TRANS PEOPLE OF COLOR

PRESENTERS: BROWNFEIPOWER; KAMEELAH RASHEED; DEVORAH HILL, LAIMAH OSMAN, MONA ELDAHRY, JAMILA AND YASMIN MADADI OF AWAAM (ARAB WOMEN ACTIVE IN ARTS AND MEDIA)

You believe it is better to speak, but which medium will best amplify your voice and reach your community? Participants in this session can move between many different stations, getting a hands on training from a woman of color media expert and picking up a new skill at each one, including blogging, zine-making, stenciling, graphic design, sewing, textile stenciling (bring a t-shirt or something), video editing and more. This session is open to all women/trans people of color of all ages and from all levels of previous engagement with media making.

YOUTH MEDIA LAB OPENS + TOUR OF DETROIT FOR YOUTH

In the afternoon, we'll get an orientation to the stations in the media lab (audio, video, photo and transmitter-building). Those of us who want to jump right down to business making media together will do so. Those of us who want to learn more about Detroit, while collecting audio and video footage, will get on the PPH bus and head out to explore the city.

2:00PM - 3:30PM (90 min sessions)

COMMUNITY ARTS AUDITORIUM

MANIFESTING SPIRIT THROUGH THE ARTS

PRESENTER: IDRIS HASSAN

This session will focus how creativity is a direct link to spirituality and how this energy can fuel activism and healing in our communities. Bay Area Cypher is a performance documentary that blends live freestyle performances with short interviews and historical footage to document the unique evolution of Hip Hop in the Bay Area. The piece discusses how creative expression is a manifestation of spiritual expression, and how spiritual expression can expand every area of our existence.

2:00PM - 3:30PM (90 min sessions)

ROOM J

CREATING THE TOOLS FOR AN IMMIGRANT SAFETY NET

PRESENTERS: RICARDO DOMINGUEZ, THE ELECTRONIC DISTURBANCE THEATER; DEANNE CUELLAR, TEXAS MEDIA EMPOWERMENT PROJECT; ILEANA CORTEZ, CENTRO OBRERO

MODERATOR: ELENA HERRADA, CENTRO OBRERO

From San Antonio to Southwest Detroit, people are utilizing media to advance the movement for immigrant rights. They are transforming everyday tools such as cell phones into GPS navigation devices for people crossing the border. They are using community radio stations to broadcast vital information in indigenous languages, so that in times of disaster, immigrants have equal access to life-saving information. Finally they are creating outlets for the stories of immigrants through the Internet--expanding the national consciousness about the struggle for immigrant rights. This panel will explore the work of several projects that are creating a safety net for some of the most vulnerable populations in the country: Transborder Immigrant Project, Texas Media Empowerment Project, and Centro Obrero de Detroit.

ROOM H

GROWING THE FIELD OF YOUTH MEDIA EDUCATORS

PRESENTERS: ALEXIS NEIDER, PS 155 WILLIAM PACA SCHOOL, NEW YORK CITY; TIM DORSEY, YOUTH MEDIA LEARNING NETWORK

This workshop is geared towards an audience of youth media-educators, working in a variety of media types (audio, video, print, web or other) and settings (community-based organizations, afterschool programs, schools, media arts centers, and more). We will look closely at samples of youth-produced media, viewing footage of young people engaged in media-making, then conduct role plays for educators as learners. All will be invited to reflect upon their teaching practices, to approach their work as learners, and to consider how they might support one another and other colleagues moving forward as educators teaching youth media.

3:45PM - 5:15PM (90 min sessions)

ROOM J

GRASSROOTS RADIO PRODUCTION: TELLING AND TO THE POINT

PRESENTERS: ANDALUSIA KNOLL, RUSTBELT RADIO; SELINA MUSUTA, FREE SPEECH RADIO NEWS

This workshop is news production/writing for radio 101. How is writing for radio different from writing for print? How is writing for grassroots radio different from writing for corporate radio? Participants will learn the basics of community journalism--from the 5Ws to examining sources, research and events. This is a participatory workshop in which you will practice writing ledes/intros for a radio piece and brainstorm how to expand your story.

ROOM H

YOUTH MEDIA TO WHAT END?

PRESENTERS: ALEXIS NEIDER, PS 155 WILLIAM PACA SCHOOL, NEW YORK CITY; TIM DORSEY, YOUTH MEDIA LEARNING NETWORK

Many in the youth media field believe that they are doing social justice work by simply working with youth of color or youth from underserved communities and exploring issues that impact them. While that work may tackle important social issues, it does not necessarily fulfill its potential to affect social change. This panel will share strategies from several youth media organizations, who are connecting youth voice with social justice movements.

3:45PM - 5:15PM (90 min sessions)

COMMUNITY ARTS AUDITORIUM

VISION IS OUR POWER: CREATING SAFETY IN OUR COMMUNITIES WITHOUT POLICE

A film screening followed by a discussion with members of the Visions To Peace Project, Washington D.C.

In this daring and thoughtful documentary, youth and youth justice workers reveal the many faces of violence against youth. They share personal stories, art and honest dialog with hope of sparking new visions for safety that do not depend on policing and prisons. Vision Is Our Power was created by youth and young adults of the Visions to Peace Project, a youth leadership and movement-building project located in Washington, DC. We are committed to building a broad vision and movement for safety, justice and freedom - the building blocks of peace - through the use of arts, media and community education. Following the screening, members of the Visions to Peace Project will facilitate a discussion and exercises in which participants will work together to create analysis, visions and strategies for ending multiple forms of violence against youth.

5:30PM - 7:30PM

KEYNOTE: REGRESS, PLATEAU OR EVOLVE

FEATURING: ADRIENNE MAREE BROWN, THE RUCKUS SOCIETY / ALLIED MEDIA PROJECTS; ALEXIS PAULINE GUMBS, UBUNTU; DREAMS BETWEEN GRAVES; HURRICANE SEASON; HARDCORE DETROIT (BREAKDANCING); KAZEMBE BALAGUN, THE BRECHT FORUM; KRISTA FRANKLIN (COLLAGE ART); MABEL WILLIAMS (RADIO FREE DIXIE); MARIANA CASTAÑEDA (DETROIT SUMMER); OUR EVOLUTION BEYOND SURVIVAL (VIDEO BY DIANA NUCERA); PAULA ROJAS, MAMIS OF COLOR RISING RADIO COLLECTIVE; RON SCOTT, FOR MY PEOPLE; LOTTIE V. SPADY, FREE D MEDIA; RICARDO DOMINGUEZ, THE ELECTRONIC DISTURBANCE THEATER

The next 10 years, depending on who you listen to, will bring rapture, apocalypse, the birth of thousands of autonomous collectives without borders, a cyborg revolution, or more of the same mass marching with slight improvements whenever Apple/Google drops a new toy.

We kick off the 10th annual AMC with a multi-dimensional look at all the potential futures that lay before us. This interactive, performance keynote-event will be a conversation between technologists and organizers, biologists and artists, futurists and percussionists. We will examine what threatens our survival and unearth the specific points where we are most likely to evolve. With the resources of our collective knowledge, we'll begin to plot the types of media required to guarantee self-determined communities in all possible

7:30PM - 9:00PM (dinner and dinnertime caucuses)

YOUTH MEDIA EDUCATORS CAUCUS

FACILITATORS: INGRID H. DAHL, YOUTH MEDIA REPORTER; TIM DORSEY, YOUTH MEDIA LEARNING NETWORK; MEGHAN McDERMOTT, GLOBAL ACTION PROJECT; REBECCA O'DOHERTY, APPALSHOP

At the Youth Media Educators Caucus, youth media practitioners (including educators, program staff, teaching artists, and youth) are invited to participate in an open dialogue about our work within the dynamic, diverse, and ever-expanding field of youth media. This is an opportunity to reflect on emerging trends, share updates from our programs, and highlight a number of national initiatives that support the work of practitioners who teach youth to produce media. The caucus will provide a space to discuss perspectives, trends, topical issues, and next steps. In addition, this networking opportunity will facilitate dialogue amongst attendees regarding current work in the field and areas to work collaboratively and/or partner. Come greet old friends and welcome new colleagues at AMC.

ROOM B

CULTURE & RESISTANCE FROM BROOKLYN TO PALESTINE

PRESENTERS: FACILITATORS FROM THE PALESTINE EDUCATION PROJECT; STUDENTS FROM BUSHWICK COMMUNITY HIGH SCHOOL

Using a mixture of demonstration and discussion, this workshop will share the Palestine /Israel Education Project's (PEP) work using media in teaching about about Israel/Palestine. We will explore ways to raise awareness about the Palestinian struggle while developing ways for youth in the US to articulate and address their own connections to colonialism, racism, and militarism. Educators and students will co-facilitate, using Palestinian hip hop videos and lyrics, digital stories made by Palestinian youth in refugee camps, radio and video pieces created by youth in Brooklyn, and clips from the documentary Slingshot Hip Hop to jumpstart conversations around racism, occupation, and resistance. This workshop will provide concrete activity suggestions, hand-outs, and audio-visual materials.

TRANSPORTING SILENCED VOICES THROUGH INTERVIEWS FOR FILM/VIDEO

PRESENTER: TIONA MCCLODDEN (DIRECTOR)

This session will be a screening of black./womyn.:conversations with lesbians of African Descent followed by a workshop on how to conduct interviews for film/video. black./womyn.:conversations. . . focuses on the lives and views of lesbians of African descent, featuring candid interviews discussing coming out, sexuality and religion, love and relationships, marriage, visibility in media, discrimination and homophobia, activism, gender identity, balancing gender/race/sexuality and more. Interviewees include close to 50 out, Black lesbians including Poet Cheryl Clarke, Filmmaker Aishah Shahidah Simmons, Poet Staceyann Chin, and Filmmaker Michelle Parkerson. 97min. Following the film a workshop will explore the art of the interview and the idea of transporting often silenced voices through film and video. We will explore these topics: (1) Ways one can make an interviewee feel comfortable. (2) Editing for a documentary filled with heavy dialogue. (3) Providing safe spaces for progressive dialogue around a film dealing with various points of view.

9:00AM - 10:30AM (90 min sessions)

ROOM E

STRATEGIC FRAMING AND MESSAGING

PRESENTERS: GLOBAL ACTION PROJECT

We believe it is essential to think strategically when making media. In order to do that, we must understand how and why the dominant media frames our communities and experience in a certain light, and then build our own strategies to create media that reflects our values and reframes our experience on our own terms. This workshop is very interactive, and combines small group work with larger group discussions, hands-on production, and story-telling. We want participants to build and learn from each other's experiences, gain media literacy skills, and develop a visual strategy tool they can use to advance their work.

ROOM F

SOCIAL JUSTICE AND ZINE-MAKING

PRESENTERS: SHIRA HASSAN, AMBER KUTKA, RYANNA SANDOVAL, CINDY IBARRA AND ISA VILLAFLOR OF THE YOUNG WOMEN'S EMPOWERMENT PROJECT

In this interactive session we will make a zine together! Learn YWEP's quick and dirty method of making zines on the fly! Young Women's Empowerment Project is a social justice based harm reduction organization working with girls and transgender girls involved in the sex trade and street economy. We have been making zines since our very first day together. We emphasize self-care and social justice and our zines always have a theme or a message about a topic we care about at the time. Past zines have been: F**K the Police, Real Drug Information, Eyes Wide Open, a series of zines on the sex trade and many more. . .

ROOM H

THE ART OF AWESOME FACILITATION

PRESENTER: ADRIENNE MAREE BROWN, THE RUCKUS SOCIETY / ALLIED MEDIA PROJECTS

For organizers, skillful facilitation might be the most important media tool we can cultivate. How do we create the spaces where the diverse members of an organization, community, family, etc. can come together and communicate in a way that is respectful and effective and that draws out every person's best ideas? Come spend time with Facilitation Evangelist Adrienne Maree Brown and learn how to make any meeting, gathering or event burst with energetic input and creative outcomes. This workshop will cover: Your Facilitation Personality, Best (and Worst) Practices, Asking the Right Questions, and Ground Rules. This will be a popular education so expect to participate and co-create!

ROOM I

FROM SOCIAL NETWORKING TO DIGITAL SECURITY: WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT THE WEB 2.0 FUTURE

PRESENTERS: DEANNE CUELLAR, TEXAS MEDIA EMPOWERMENT PROJECT; BRENNA WOLF, RISEUP NETWORKS; CHUCK ROBINSON, TEXAS MEDIA EMPOWERMENT PROJECT

Where is the Internet going and what does it mean for you and your friends? What does digital security mean for social justice movements? This interactive workshop will address how to use computers safely and securely in activism and organizing. Learn how and why to navigate social networking sites without giving up too much of your personal data (or your soul). Facilitators include tech activists from the Texas Media Empowerment Project and Riseup Networks.

9:00AM - 10:30AM (90 min sessions)

ROOM J

MORE THAN NEWS: COMMUNITY ORGANIZING THROUGH COMMUNITY RADIO

PRESENTERS: ABAYOMI AZIKIWE, RON SCOTT AND SANDRA HINES OF THE FIGHTING FOR JUSTICE RADIO SHOW; JEANETTE MONSALVE, KELLEE COLEMAN AND PAULA ROJAS OF MAMIS OF COLOR RISING RADIO COLLECTIVE; ERIC YATES AND DAN JONES OF THE PHILADELPHIA STUDENT UNION

MODERATOR: DESI BURNETTE, PROMETHEUS RADIO PROJECT

This panel will examine different models of radio projects that were developed by and for specific communities: the Fighting for Justice Radio Show, a project of the Detroit Coalition Against Police Brutality; Mamis of Color Rising, an Austin-based radio show for poor and working class mothers of color; and the Philadelphia Student Union radio show. It will survey different formats for radio shows—from call-in shows to investigative reporting. It will also address the question: how can community radio go beyond a “service” model of providing information to the community, towards something that will be an instrument for community organizing?

ROOM L

THE YOUTH MEDIA LAB (ONGOING)

10:50AM - 12:20PM (90 min sessions)

ROOM E

YOUTH SOCIAL JUSTICE VIDEOS FROM THE FACTORY

PRESENTERS: AURORA CASTELLANOS, SHAHIDAH LACY, YIANETH SAENZ, PHRED SWAIN-SUGARMAN, TAYLOR WHITE AND SCOTT BOSWELL OF THE BAY AREA VIDEO COLLECTIVE

This screening / forum will give attendees the chance to view and discuss brand-new social justice shorts by youth from the Oakland Bay Area. Five teen filmmakers from The Factory will present and discuss their work covering a range of topics from the effects of NAFTA on immigration to post-traumatic stress amongst urban youth to reparations for African-Americans. The Factory is an Oakland-based digital filmmaking program of the Bay Area Video Coalition that engages teens to produce creative works bound for national exhibition. With an emphasis on creative and political expression, youth artists work collaboratively to produce professional quality work that aims to bring youth perspective, culture, and talent to a wide audience.

ROOM F

PARTY PROMOTION AS AN ORGANIZING TOOL

PRESENTERS: MARY DEE AND AIKO SHIRAKAWA, 5TH ELEMENT

More and more people are reclaiming party and music spaces to nurture a transformative music movement. What are the sustainable economic models of party promotion and event production that support positive and progressive agendas? How can we create more of these transformed spaces across the country? How do organizers improve their skill in putting events together? Can organizations pair with promoters to create these kinds of spaces? This workshop will highlight the experiences of 5th Element, a collective of women who use hip hop to challenge sexism and misogyny by producing shows and workshops highlighting positive artists. Participants will leave with practical, innovative approaches to throwing parties and booking shows that will apply within any music scene.

10:50AM - 12:20PM (90 min sessions)

ROOM H

UNBOUGHT AND UNBOSSSED: TOOLS FOR INDEPENDENCE

PRESENTER: HOTEF, PRESIDENT OF HUSTLEUNIVERSITY.ORG

The Unbought and Unbossed presentation provides proven strategies for success for all independent media producers; particularly those struggling with financing and distributing their works. This presentation is highly popular because of its practical, solution-based methodology. The audience will go home with: 1) 10 power principles to improve their professional and personal lives. 2) Practical strategies for how they can apply the principles. 3) A list of FREE websites that they can easily use to get started 4) Powerful (yet inexpensive) Marketing and Promotional strategies 5) Amazing new distribution methods 6) An empowered mind state, which will no longer allow them to wait for opportunity, but help them consistently find ways to create opportunity for themselves.

ROOM I

MEDIA MONITORING FOR DISABILITY RIGHTS AND BEYOND

PRESENTERS: RYAN PINION; STACY MILBERN; ISABEL MACDONALD, FAIRNESS &amp; ACCURACY IN REPORTING (FAIR)

When was the last time you heard or saw people with disabilities represented in the media? Part 1 of this session will break down the most common frames of discussion when it comes to disability in the media: sickness, medicine and charity. We will then present alternative representations of disability not commonly portrayed in the media and share current and historical information about the Disability Rights Movement in this country. During Part 2 of this session, the Fairness and Accuracy in Reporting will share concrete tools for monitoring the media, documenting unfair and inaccurate coverage, and using this documentation as part of campaigns to achieve more accountable coverage. Participants will have the chance to practice these tools on recent media reports involving harmful representations of disability in the media, and ultimately will walk away with tools that they can apply to any campaign for social justice. You will also receive concrete tools for addressing ableism and inaccessibility issues within your own organization!

ROOM J

USING GOOGLE MAPS FOR YOUTH COMMUNITY ORGANIZING

PRESENTERS: ZANE SCHEUERLEIN, OPEN YOUTH NETWORKS; AND MARISOL BECERRA, LITTLE VILLAGE ENVIRONMENTAL JUSTICE ORGANIZATION

Google maps enables users to embed pictures and videos. By adding pictures and videos that tell the stories of the issues in communities across the globe, one can network and exchange strategies with other groups. In this interactive and hands-on workshop, we will show "The Cloud Factory," a youth produced video about environmental racism in the Mexican-American neighborhood of Little Village. We will also present our mapzine and teach others to contribute digital content and essentially use Google maps as a tool of social action and community organizing. Workshop participants will create personal stories about the environment through digital media and embed them onto Google maps.

12:20PM - 2:20PM (lunch and lunchtime caucuses)

SEE REGISTRATION TABLE FOR LOCATION

RADICAL PARENTING CAUCUS

FACILITATORS: FABIOLA SANDOVAL, MAI'A WILLIAMS CARPENTER, VICTORIA LAW

Parents, particularly mothers, are rarely supported in their radical organizing communities. Often they are pushed away to feed, entertain and quiet their babies and children so that the "activists" can continue organizing. Radical communities reinforce patriarchy and the nuclear family when they ignore the needs and contributions of the mothers and children in their midst. What is revolutionary parenting? How do we center the needs and contributions of parents and caretakers in a sustainable way? Looking at women in the Spanish Revolution, Zapatistas, and INCITE!, we will: share experiences; envision what revolutionary parenting looks like as we strive to create a better world; build strategies on creating a supportive environment for mothers/caretakers in radical movements; discuss how to build support systems within one's community from non-parents/caretakers.

SEE REGISTRATION TABLE FOR LOCATION

CYBER QUILTING CAUCUS

FACILITATOR: FALLON WILSON

The Cyber Quilting Experiment is a project examining how the Internet can be used for social justice work and movement building activities. As with the Highlander Folk School in the Civil Rights Movement, the cyber quilting experiment is to be a space where activism, cognitive engagement, and skill development intersect, equipping women of color activist and organizations with the cyber tools needed to bring about radical social change. The experiment involves three spatial Internet components: (1) A Space to End Violence against Women of Color; (2) A Space to Envision a Better Day; and (3) A Space to do Media Justice work. Each Internet space will bring together artist, scholars, and activists to either create new projects or to collaborate on existing projects. At this caucus, we will talk with women of color about the project and etch out how to make the vision of the cyber quilting experiment a reality.

2:20PM - 5:30PM (3 hour, 10 min session)

ROOM B

FROM INDEPENDENCE TO INTERDEPENDENCE: BUILDING ALTERNATIVE ECONOMIES FOR ALTERNATIVE MEDIA MAKERS

PRESENTERS: CAPITAL D, ALL NATURAL INC.; ILANA INVINCIBLE, EMERGENCE MUSIC; BEC YOUNG AND PETE YAHNKE, JUST SEEDS / VISUAL RESISTANCE ARTIST COOPERATIVE; JESSICA CARE MOORE, MOORE BLACK PRESS

This interactive session will move from a multimedia process of envisioning the type of interdependent economies we as independent artists need in order to thrive and evolve, then to a dialog around the specific challenges we face in creating what we envision. Participants will take an up close look at the ins and outs of 4 organizations working to develop alternative economies for independent media makers: Just Seeds, a national collective of visual artists; Moore Black Press, the independent publishing company of Detroit poet Jessica Care Moore; founders of the label All Natural, Inc.; and Emergence Media a brand new music/meda company currently 'emerging' from Detroit.

2:20PM - 4:40PM (90 min session)

COMMUNITY ARTS AUDITORIUM

(FILMS FROM THE FE FES) DOIN IT: SEX, DISABILITY AND VIDEOTAPE / WHY THEY GOTTA DO ME LIKE THAT? THE FE FES TAKE ON BULLYING

PRESENTERS: SILVA TINGLE, SANDRA HUSIC, PRECIOUS CANTRELL- JONES, MAYRA PUMA, JAZMINE COATES, CORTINA WINFREY AND ANA MERCADO OF THE EMPOWERED FE FES

These two films were created by the Empowered Fe Fes, a group of girls from Chicago who have disabilities and come together to make a difference. "Doin It" is a daring and humorous investigation into the uncharted intersection between disability and sexuality. In the video, the Fe Fes look at everything from a feminist sex shop to the history of the eugenics movement to control the sexuality of people with disabilities, which persists today. In "Why They Gotta Do Me Like That" the Fe Fe's show us how we can work together to understand and stop school-based discrimination, particularly against people with disabilities. The screening will be followed by a discussion with the Fe Fes on how these videos can be used to transform our schools, communities, organizations and the world.

ROOM E

DOING RESEARCH TOGETHER: PARTNERSHIPS AND ALLIANCES FOR YOUTH MEDIA

PRESENTERS: AMY BACH, HEAVYN-LEIGH AMERICAN AND HABIBAH AHMAD OF MANHATTAN NEIGHBORHOOD NETWORK

What is youth-centered participatory action research and how can it be used to advance the field of youth media? Come hear about a collaborative research project that the Manhattan Neighborhood Network's Youth Channel (YC) is doing to involve young people in the development of a cable TV channel dedicated to media made by youth for youth. Called "YC All-City", it will be the nation's first channel to work with teams of young people to shape, produce, and promote youth programming. The workshop will offer participants an opportunity to explore some of the challenges, possibilities, and strategies for supporting organizational work that allows the community to take an active role in the process of research.

ROOM F

IF I CAN'T DANCE IN YOUR REVOLUTION: B-GIRLS FOR THE MOVEMENT

Presenters: Aiko Shirakawa, 5th Element; Mary Dee, 5th Element; B-Girl Tara, Anomalies Crew

Dance is one of the oldest forms of communication. And Breaking/Locking crews have communicated the resistance of the hip hop generation since its beginning! What's a movement without movement? Come learn the foundation elements of breaking from two of the flyest in the game, B-girl Aiko, original Pop/Locker from San Jose, CA, and B-girl Tara, instructor from NYC. These two b-girls from ANOMOLIES and 5th Element will teach you the foundation; locking, top roks, and floorwork, where you take it is up to you...

ROOM H

THE INTERNET: IT'S YOURS IF YOU WANT IT, PART I

PRESENTERS: FELIX CRUZ, NEW IMMIGRANT COMMUNITY EMPOWERMENT; JOHANNA PAJUEB, CITY-AS-SCHOOL MANHATTAN; JOSHUA BREITBART, PEOPLE'S PRODUCTION HOUSE; KRISTOFER RIOS, PEOPLE'S PRODUCTION HOUSE; AMY SHARP

Have you always wanted to take on the Internet policy wonks, the geeks, the paid consultants, the corporate lobbyists, and the politicians, but felt like you lacked the know-how? This workshop will decolonize Internet policy, giving you the critical tools to understand why the Internet is the way it is. We will discuss the US-centric and corporate-controlled network architecture, the domain name system as a form of 21st century imperialism, and the racism, sexism, and classism of online social dynamics. At the same time, you'll see how you can use fun games and media-making to organize and educate your community to shape the Internet's future. Discussion will continue into "The Internet, Part II: How We Would Like It To Be."

2:20PM - 4:40PM (90 min session)

ROOM I

RECESS: ONE GIRL'S STRUGGLE BETWEEN GETTING AN EDUCATION AND GETTING SCHOOLED

PRESENTER: UNA AYA OSATO

This workshop will begin with a live performance of a multi-media one-woman show Recess. Recess is a play created from the experience of the author, Una Aya Osato, attending and teaching in NYC public schools. It confronts the state of today's public school system where struggles for power, criminalization of the youth and the effects of a suffocating bureaucracy are an everyday reality. Through Recess, participants will experience how performance can be used to make abstract ideas real and personal in the classroom. We will discuss other ways of incorporating theater and performance into classrooms and together begin to generate solutions to the larger questions of how education can become humane and liberatory for all.

ROOM J

UNDOING "CRIME": MEDIA TO DE-CRIMINALIZE AND DE-COLONIZE

PRESENTERS: PUCK LO, CRITICAL RESISTANCE-OAKLAND / NATIONAL RADIO PROJECT / FREE SPEECH RADIO NEWS; JAGGI SINGH, NO ONE IS ILLEGAL-MONTREAL / SOLIDARITY ACROSS BORDERS; RACHEL HERZING, CREATIVE INTERVENTIONS / LEFT TURN / THE ABOLITIONIST; ALAN GRIEG, GENERATION 5

MODERATOR: SAHEE KIL

Business and corporate media inundate us with sensational tales of "crime." These stories consistently side with police and the State, heavily relying upon stereotypes that pathologize poor people and those who work in informal and illegal sectors. In this panel, we'll hear from independent journalists who are telling the "real" story behind crime and the ever-expanding prison, punishment and surveillance industries. But how can media go beyond truth-telling? What role can our media play in building a world without prisons? We'll hear from people who make media to create justice in their communities and share ideas to take home.

ROOM L

THE YOUTH MEDIA LAB (ONGOING)

4:00PM - 5:30PM (90 min sessions)

COMMUNITY ARTS AUDITORIUM

SLINGSHOT HIP HOP (SUNDANCE FILM FESTIVAL 2008 OFFICIAL SELECTION)

Q &amp; A FOLLOWING THE FILM WITH MEMBERS OF THE PALESTINE/ISRAEL EDUCATION PROJECT

Slingshot Hip Hop braids together the stories of young Palestinians living in Israel, Gaza, and the West Bank as they discover Hip Hop and employ it as a tool to surmount divisions imposed by occupation and poverty. From internal checkpoints and Separation Walls to gender norms and generational differences, this is the story of young people crossing the borders that separate them. There will be a discussion with the director and producers following the film.

ROOM E

THE FUTURE OF FILM AND VIDEO ONLINE

PRESENTERS: LEAH SAPIN OF ARTS ENGINE, IVETTZA SANCHEZ, LESLIE STEWART AND BRITTANY SHOOT

What happens after a film or video has been made? In a previous era, cementing mainstream dispensation was a primary concern. But in a world filled with YouTube and MySpace, many people are left wondering how to make sense of the myriad of ways to get your video not just on the web, but WATCHED. From our diverse backgrounds, we will provide real life examples of innovative grassroots strategies and success stories to use as the basis for an audience-led discussion on the issues educators, organizers, and independent media makers face when trying to build community outside revenue or ad-based models. We look forward to discussing the best strategies for promoting film and video work online, both in terms of maximum exposure but also in regards to quality community-building around a maker and his/her work's base ideas.

ROOM F

STREET ART 101

PRESENTER: JOSH REDD SANCHEZ

Street art (graffiti, stencils, wheatpastes, etc.) is a powerful direct action tool for taking control of our mental and physical environments. This hands-on workshop, led by Josh Redd Sanchez will offer a general how-to on stenciling, with a discussion of other techniques such as paper cutting and wheatpasting.

ROOM H

THE INTERNET: IT'S YOURS IF YOU WANT IT, PART II

PRESENTERS: JOSUE GUILLÉN, MAYFIRST/PEOPLELINK; JAMIE MCCLELLAND, MAYFIRST/PEOPLELINK; JOSHUA BREITBART, PEOPLE'S PRODUCTION HOUSE

Building on "The Internet, Part I: What It Is," we will formulate a shared vision for the Internet we would like to see. We will examine what the Internet means for us and our movements; how it models the society we are struggling for; and how we as progressive activists can work inside the Internet to broaden its positive impact and protect the gains we and it have made. The focus will be to collaboratively write an Internet Justice Bill of Rights, modeled after similar efforts at the US Social Forum and the New York City Grassroots Media Conference.

ROOM I

SNAG MAGAZINE: NATIVE CULTURE, GENOCIDE AND RESISTANCE IN CALIFORNIA

PRESENTERS: GABRIEL DUNCAN AND RAS K'DEE

In this workshop, the grassroots media group Seventh Native American Generation (SNAG) will discuss the genocide of California Natives beginning with massacres during the Gold Rush of 1849 and continuing with forced removals, boarding schools, reservations and mercury pollution. We will provide accounts shared by SNAG's founder, Ross Cunningham (a Pomo from Northern California) and through clips from the film "Gold, Greed and Genocide." Afterward SNAG will lead a writing workshop with participants around their experiences with cultural genocide and resistance, modeled after its work with Native youth in schools and on reservations. Some of the writings produced during the workshop will appear in the next issue of SNAG, which is dedicated to the shared struggles of Palestinian and Native youth. You can purchase a copy at the workshop for $5. It comes with a music CD inside of Native artists from across the country.

ROOM J

MEDIA COVERAGE & GRASSROOTS ORGANIZING: JENA SIX & NEW JERSEY 4 FROM THE INSIDE

PRESENTERS: ANDREA RITCHIE, INCITE! WOMEN OF COLOR AGAINST VIOLENCE; MOYA BAILEY, BE BOLD BE BRAVE BE RED; JESSE MUHAMMAD, THE FINAL CALL NEWSPAPER; JORDAN FLAHERTY, LEFT TURN MAGAZINE; BROWNFEPOWER

How did the story of the Jena Six spark mobilizations that came to be called "a 21st century civil rights movement" in the media? How did the seven young black lesbians who were attacked in the West Village of NYC in 2006 come to be called a "wolf pack of lesbians" in the media, resulting the imprisonment of four of them? This panel will feature the journalists, bloggers and grassroots activists who helped bring both of these stories to national attention. We will breakdown the process by which progressive media institutions fueled mass mobilizations in support of the Jena Six, and also offer an analysis of how and why such mobilizations did not occur in support of the New Jersey 4. We will look at the strategies developed by Women of Color Bloggers to raise national awareness of the New Jersey 4 without the backing of most progressive media outlets. Finally, we will explore what both of these cases have to teach us about the kind of media movement we need for the future.

MIDWEST INDYMEDIA NETWORK MEET-UP

A lot has changed in the media landscape since the inception of the Indymedia network in 1999 and the network has waxed and waned in terms of local involvement and communication between groups. This caucus will be a forum for people who were once or are currently affiliated with Indymedia, or interested in joining Indymedia, to talk about the status of the network and make plans for its future. With the RNC/DNC coming up in a few months and an IMC presence being likely this could also serve as a point to plan collaborations amongst people interested in covering the protests from a IMC open newswire perspective.

PEOPLES STATISTICS: PART II -- PUTTING PARTICIPATORY RESEARCH TO WORK!

PRESENTERS: ANDREA RIDGES, JON BLOUNT, STARLET LEE AND JENNY LEE OF DETROIT SUMMER'S LIVE ARTS MEDIA PROJECT; ANDREA RITCHIE AND REMY KHARBANDA OF RESEARCH FOR REVOLUTION; ISA GONZALEZ & PAULA ROJAS OF SISTA II SISTA

Join us for a continuation of the much-loved People's Statistics workshop at AMC 2007. Collectively, we'll share strategies for developing and using survey-based participatory research in campaigns around education, school safety, and violence against young women. We'll analyze struggles and successes through role-playing and talk about how to make sure we address the intersections of race, gender, gender identity and sexuality based oppressions in our research & organizing. And we'll brainstorm ways of overcoming challenges together!

10:00AM - 11:30AM (90 min sessions)

COMMUNITY ARTS AUDITORIUM

NEW GRASSROOTS VIDEO FROM NEW ORLEANS (FILM SCREENING)

PRESENTERS: JORDAN FLAHERTY, LEFT TURN MAGAZINE; CLINTON YOUNG III AND STEPHEN LEWIS, 2-CENT ENTERTAINMENT

The New Orleans International Human Rights Film Festival presents a powerful selection of New Orleans grassroots media. From the high-quality films of 2-Cent Entertainment, to pieces by New Orleans high school students, to short films about post-Katrina organizing by established New Orleans filmmakers, this film program will present vital first-hand perspectives from New Orleans. Many of the films shown have not been seen outside of New Orleans.

10:00AM - 11:30AM (90 min sessions)

ROOM H

ZERO DOLLARS: SETTING UP A MEDIA PUBLISHING NERVE CENTER USING FREE AND OPEN SOURCE MEDIA TOOLS

PRESENTERS: DEAN JANSEN, THE PARTICIPATORY CULTURE FOUNDATION; STEVEN MANSOUR, THE STRICT MACHINE FOUNDATION

Commercial platforms like YouTube, MySpace, and Facebook give activist mediamakers potential access to large audiences, but they also exploit your cultural labor, make money off of ads without sharing the revenue with you, log your IP address and track your social networks, hand over your info to the government, and censor you if they are asked to do so by the government or corporations. Happily, the last couple of years have seen a real advance in free and open source tools to help you set up your own multimedia site. In this part-informational, part-hands-on workshop, we will zero in on some state of the art FOSS tools that you can use for video production and distribution.

ROOM I

MEDIA ACCESS FOR PRISONERS

PRESENTERS: VICTORIA LAW; KAMEELAH RASHEED; DANNETTE HOARDE, WOMEN AND PRISON: A SITE FOR RESISTANCE; ANTHONY RAYSON, SOUTH CHICAGO ABC ZINE DISTRO

While working towards the long-term goal of prison abolition, we must also take on more immediate efforts to support those silenced by incarceration. This session will include a discussion with independent media makers and prison activists on current initiatives, barriers and possibilities of media access for prisoners, sustainability and growth of prisoner-focused media.

ROOM J

THE FUTURE OF CENSORSHIP

PRESENTERS: MONA ELDAHRY, ARAB WOMEN ACTIVE IN THE ARTS AND MEDIA; STEVE PIERCE, HUDSON MOHAWK INDYMEDIA CENTER; NADA ELIA, INCITE! WOMEN OF COLOR AGAINST VIOLENCE

What does the future of "free speech," censorship and political repression look like through an Arab/Muslim lens? While mainstream media demonizes Arabs and Muslims, independent media and art made by Arabs/Muslims is deemed terrorist propaganda. Even the expression of solidarity can be criminal. This panel will draw lessons from the experience of AWAAM (Arab Women Active in Arts and Media) whose "INTIFADA NYC" t-shirts became the basis for a racist smear campaign against the Khalil Gibran International Academy and its founding principal, Debbie Almontaser. We'll hear from the Hudson-Mohawk Indymedia center, who's willingness to host Iraqi artist Wafaa Bilal's "Virtual Jihada" exhibit caused the city to shut down their community space. We'll also hear the story of why the Ford Foundation revoked $100,000 from INCITE! Women of Color Against Violence moments before their Color of Violence III conference in 2005. From each of these stories we'll build our collective knowledge of how to prepare for and respond to a future of increased censorship and political repression in all targeted communities.

ROOM L

US-PALESTINE YOUTH SOLIDARITY NETWORK LIVE VIDEO CONFERENCE

PRESENTERS: PALESTINE EDUCATION PROJECT, HOOK PRODUCTIONS, MNN YOUTH CHANNEL

The US-Palestine Youth Solidarity Network (YSN) will host a live video-conference with youth in Palestine. Participants will be responding to the media they have engaged with in parallel workshops in Palestine and at the AMC. Both workshops will have introduced digital stories, music videos, radio spots, and other media created by youth in both the U.S. and Palestine and this live video conference will be a chance for them to hear each other's thoughts and questions. YSN partners in Palestine proposed this idea so that their young members can see how the digital stories and music they've created during YSN workshops are used and what impact they have.

11:50AM - 1:20PM (90 min sessions)

COMMUNITY ARTS AUDITORIUM

HISTORY, MEMORY AND PUBLIC SPACE: TAKING BACK THE PLAQUE

PRESENTERS: ROBIN HEWLETT, MARY TREMONTE, SHAUN SLIFER, THE HOWLING MOB SOCIETY; SANDRA DE LA ROZA, POCHO RESEARCH SOCIETY

MODERATOR: NICOLAS LAMPERT

This panel examines the work of two radical art collectives that use signage to explain a historical event that has been marginalized. For The Howling Mob Society's inaugural project they created a historical sign project that would draw attention to the Railroad Strike of 1877, one of the most significant and violent labor strike's in US history. The Pocho Research Society is best known for installing their own plaques on the surface of monuments and buildings (often next to the "official" plaque) that offers a counter perspective and a critique of not only the monument in question, but the form of the monument itself. This presentation is ideal for ideas for artists, activists and organizers interested in creating similar projects in their communities.

ROOM H

MAPPING THE NEXT 10 YEARS

FACILITATORS: JESSAMYN SABBAG; FUTURE 5000 AND ALIZA DICHTER; CENTER FOR INTERNATIONAL MEDIA ACTION

This session will bring the conference around full-circle from the Friday night keynote. We will look at all the ideas that have been posted on the wall map of the future throughout the weekend, and distill strategies for strengthening and evolving all of our work through the challenges and opportunities of the next ten years.

ROOM I

THE POWERS OF RURAL AND URBAN MEDIA UNITE!

PRESENTERS: MALKIA CYRIL, CENTER FOR MEDIA JUSTICE; EDYAE CASAPERALTA, CENTER FOR RURAL STRATEGIES; JOSHUA BREITBART, PEOPLE'S PRODUCTION HOUSE

This session is an open conversation about the challenges and opportunities that urban and rural communities face. Our goal is to explore avenues of rural and urban collaboration via dialogue, imagination, and media. Our conversation will feature three components: 1) small group discussions about the challenges and opportunities of urban and rural, their differences and similarities, and how media contributes to amplifying challenges and creating opportunities; 2) stories of successful rural and urban collaborations from panelists and the audience; and 3) writing/live-blogging of insights and action steps that emerge from the conversation. Whether you are from a rural or urban community, or somewhere in between, lets unite and make our efforts stronger for all.

ROOM J

PLOTTING A MEDIA-BASED ECONOMY FOR DETROIT'S FUTURE

PARTICIPANTS: AURORA HARRIS, BROADSIDE PRESS; RON SCOTT, FOR MY PEOPLE; KHARY FRAZIER, THE MICHIGAN CITIZEN; SHEA HOWELL, BOGGS CENTER; ZAK ROSEN, DETROIT TODAY; OYA AMAKISI, AMAKISI UNLIMITED

FACILITATOR: LOTTIE SPADY, FREE D MEDIA

Jennifer Granholm has earmarked millions of dollars for her "21st century jobs" initiative. Detroit is home to hundreds of independent recording studios based out of peoples basements, garages and bathrooms. Free D Media (In Our Own Backyard) has instituted a program to offer media-based cooperative economics skills to displaced workers in Detroit. Motown Records was started with an $800 loan from the Gordy family "co-op" in a house on W. Grand Blvd! What kind of economic future for Detroit can we advance through independent media?

ROOM L

SHOWCASE IN THE YOUTH MEDIA LAB

Come see/hear all the work of youth media makers produced throughout the weekend of the AMC!

1:40PM - 2:30PM

THE COMMUNITY ARTS AUDITORIUM

CLOSING TALK WITH GRACE LEE BOGGS

Grace Lee Boggs has been a part of almost every major movement in the United States in the last 75 years, including: Labor, Civil Rights, Black Power, Women's Rights and Environmental Justice. As she approaches her 93rd year, Grace is a living legend and one of the movement's clearest thinkers and boldest visionaries. The 10th Allied Media Conference will conclude with Grace's remarks.

3:00PM - 6:00PM

MEET AT THE NORTH ENTRANCE OF MCGREGOR CONFERENCE CENTER

TOURS OF DETROIT*INDEPENDENT MEDIA

Founded in 1965 by Detroit poet/librarian Dudley Randall, organizations like Broadside Press have made publishing outside of the mainstream "as a vehicle for building communities and promoting cultural critique" a reality in Detroit. Tour Broadside Press and Black Star Community Bookstore, a local institution contributing to the growing consciousness of Detroit's Black community since 2000. Also talk with self-made author Yusef Shakur and hear his own story of how he published his memoir, Window 2 My Soul, against all odds.

Music

Detroit is as much built on soul, techno and hip hop music as it is on bricks and mortar. From Motown Records on West Grand Blvd. to world-renowned techno label Submerge a few blocks down on East Grand Blvd, Detroit has produced a sound that has made it "a magical place of global inspiration for thousands of people throughout the world," in the words of legendary techno crew Underground Resistance. Beyond the music itself, this tour will highlight the community that supports independent artists in this city.

LABOR HISTORY

Detroit is a union town. Come learn the complex history of the labor movement in Detroit, as it intersects with the histories of Black Power, Immigrant Rights and Anti-poverty struggles. This tour will take you through the abandoned and near-abandoned factories where trees now grow on the rooftops, to community-based organizations like Centro Obrero, who are responding to the changing realities of the labor movement by supporting, empowering and allying with immigrant and undocumented workers.

ENVIRONMENTAL JUSTICE

Detroit has some of the country's worst environmental problems-- from the largest incinerator in the country, to brownfields left in the auto industry's wake, to the threat of water privatization and constant utility shutoffs. Come learn about how individuals and organizations in the community are coming together to raise consciousness, create tools of resistance and fight back to protect the land, air, water and diversity of life in Southeast Michigan.

URBAN AGRICULTURE

Detroit is at the forefront of a movement to transform our "dying cities" from "food deserts" into thriving urban farms. Due in large part to the abandonment of our city, vast tracks of land have been reclaimed by nature and offer the opportunity for food production. Detroit's first Black Mayor, Coleman Young, recognized this opportunity as early as the 1970s, when he instituted the city-wide gardening resource program, Farm-a-Lot. Learn how grassroots organizers today are creating a model for community gardening and local food economies in the context of urban decay.

GETTING AROUND DETROIT

FROM WAYNE STATE TO THE BOWLING PARTY (6/20)

THE BOWLING PARTY IS AT THE GARDEN BOWL IN THE MAJESTIC THEATER CENTER, 4120 WOODWARD AVE.

- WALK, RIDE A BIKE, OR DRIVE: The party is a half mile from Wayne State. Its a straight shot up Woodward. (SEE MAP)
- BUS: Costs $1.50 (exact change). Go to the bus stop at the corner of Kirby & Woodward (in front of the Detroit Public Library). Take the Woodward route 53 South towards downtown. The bus comes about every 10-15 minutes. The bowling alley is between Willis St. and Alexandrine St. If you hit Mack Ave./MLK Blvd., you've gone about a quarter mile too far.

FROM WAYNE STATE TO THE MUSIC EVENT (6/21)

THE MUSIC EVENT IS AT THE MAX FISHER MUSIC CENTER, 3711 WOODWARD AVE.

- WALK, RIDE A BIKE, OR DRIVE: The show is 1.1 miles from Wayne State. Its a straight shot up Woodward. (SEE MAP)
- BUS: Costs $1.50 (exact change). Go to the bus stop at the corner of Kirby & Woodward (in front of the Detroit Public Library). Take the Woodward route 53 South towards downtown. The bus comes about every 10-15 minutes. The Max is on Woodward at Parsons St. If you hit Mack Ave./MLK Blvd., you've gone a block too far.

PARKING

- Parking is available in Structure 2 (on Anthony Wayne Dr., between Kirby and Ludington Mall) during conference hours, with no out-and-back privileges. $3.50.
- Metered street parking is available around campus.
- BOWLING PARTY: There is a guarded lot in the rear of the Garden Bowl/Majestic Theater.
- MUSIC EVENT: Parking is available for $7 in the Orchestra Place Parking Structure located on Parsons just south of The Max. Parking is also available in the Orchestra Place parking deck for patrons with handicap permits.

IN A WHEELCHAIR

ALL AMC VENUES ARE WHEELCHAIR ACCESSIBLE WITH THE FOLLOWING NOTE:

There are stairs between the McGregor Conference Center and the Community Arts Auditorium. Please ask at the registration table if you need assistance moving between McGregor and Community Arts. The easiest way to get into Comm Arts is through the ramp at the South entrance.

BUSES AND ACCESSIBILITY:

The Detroit Department of Transportation says, "All of DDOT's routes are wheelchair accessible and many of our buses have ramps with a 'kneeling' feature that lowers the front entrance of the vehicle to within inches from the ground for easy access by any customer with mobility impairments or difficulty using the front steps. Other, older buses have a wheelchair lift at the back door."

CALLING A CAB

As Detroiters who basically never call a cab, we can't personally vouch for any of these companies, so report back to us with your review if you use any of them. A ride to the airport costs about $50, plus tip.

- Checker Cab Co., 313-963-7000
- Greater Detroit Cab Company, 313-962-4116
- Detroit Cab Company, 313-841-6000

THANK YOU TO OUR FUNDERS AND SPONSORS!

---

Sponsors' financial support is crucial to the mission of the conference. Sponsorship is our most important source of funding after conference registrations. Nearly all money from sponsorships and over a third of the entire conference budget goes towards scholarships to expand participation in the AMC.

The 10th Allied Media Conference is presented by Allied Media Projects, with the support of grants from the Media Justice Fund of the Funding Exchange and the Open Meadows Foundation.

The AMC is made possible through the generous donations of Anonymous, Paul Howe, Joshua Breitbart, Sarah Ann Siller, Jessica Hoffmann, Lisa Jervis, the Media Equity Collaborative, Edmonton Small Press Association [this list needs to be expanded]

The AMC is sponsored by the Oakland University Dept. of Rhetoric, Communication & Journalism, Consumers Union, INCITE! Women of Color Against Violence, People's Production House, Free Press, Media & Democracy Coalition, Leadership Conference on Civil Rights Education Fund, the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, the Praxis Project, EMERGENCE, Common Cause Education Fund, Leeway Foundation, Center for International Media Action, Arab Community Center for Economic and Social Services, National Writers Union, Liquid Words Productions, Avalon International Breads, Motor City Brewing Works, Traffic Jam Restaurant, and you, the AMC participants who make it all happen!

Promotional sponsorship provided by the Michigan Citizen, Bitch Magazine, Alliance for Community Media, Make/Shift Magazine, Left Turn Magazine, WireTap Magazine, National Alliance for Media Arts & Culture, Underground Resistance, American University Center for Social Media, Queer Women of Color Media Arts Project, Labor Notes

We congratulate the Allied Media Conference for organizing this exciting gathering of grassroots media activists.

We look forward to working together for a more just and participatory

Get the coupon. Get the right box. Keep your TV.

TV goes digital Feb. 17, 2009. By that date, by law, full power television broadcasters will switch from analog to digital broadcasting. But this means that those who use “rabbit ears” or a rooftop antenna to watch analog TV must take some action in order to stay connected.

21 million over-the-air households – largely fixed income families, seniors, people with disabilities, communities of color, and those who speak another language besides English – risk losing TV access if they don't get a government-subsidized digital converter box, subscribe to a cable service, or buy a new digital ready television.

The government is offering two free $40 coupons per household to buy converter boxes. Free coupons are available at www.DTV2009.gov; or call 1-888-DTV-2009. Coupons are limited and going fast.

As Allied Media Conference participants recognize, access to communications in the 21st century is not a luxury – it is a necessity.

That is why the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights is working with coalition partners like the American Association of People with Disabilities, NAACP, National Urban League, National Congress of American Indians, National Council of La Raza, and the Southeast Asia Resource Action Center, in an intensive public education campaign around the government-sponsored $40 coupons that offset the purchase of converter boxes.

Join us! Keep your friends, family, and community connected. Visit www.civilrights.org/dtv to download a full set of adaptable grassroots materials, or to request flyers, postcards, bookmarks, and CD-ROM/DVD toolkits for use and distribution in your community.

Who We Are

The Media and Democracy Coalition is a collaboration of more than two-dozen local and national organizations committed to building the power of the public's voice in debates over media and telecommunications systems.

What We Do

Our role is to bring together leaders in the media policy and organizing fields to work together, develop and share resources, make strategic planning and investment decisions, and expand the number and type of groups that work for public interest media policies.

How We Can Help Your Group

We can help your organization connect with the nation's leading media and telecommunications policy experts, organizers and strategists working at the grassroots and in Washington D.C. We may also be able to provide strategic advice, training and resources and other shared tools to help you build power for a better media system in your community.

Join Us!

Your organization can become a member on-line at www.media-democracy.net. There are no membership fees to join. You can also email us at info@media-democracy.net

Welcome to Detroit!

We're the Detroit Greens and we welcome you all to Detroit. There is a lot going on here and we hope you have a chance to see it.

Greens are looking for candidates to run for public office. Our program includes Impeach Bush and Cheney; End the Wars in Iraq and Afghanistan, Bring our Troops Home Now; Moratorium on Foreclosures and Utility Shutoffs; Universal Single-Payer Healthcare.

Cynthia McKinney, six-time Congresswoman, is the likely candidate of the Green Party for president. (www.runcynthiarun.org). Join with her in providing real alternatives to the failed policies of the Republicans and the silence of the Democrats. She was a Commissioner at the May 3 Truth Commission on Water Rights here in Detroit (www.mwro.org).

If you're interested in being a Green Party candidate or in supporting Green Party candidates, contact us at www.detroitgreens.org or 313-580-4905.

Welcome to Detroit — city of the future.
